Homeschooling Foreign Language

Having command of a second language is important in these global times. So, many parents are starting their children's foreign language instruction at an early age.

"When preverbal children are immersed in a second language, the words they learn become a permanent and fundamental part of their brain map," says François Thibaut, who founded The Language Workshop for Children in 1973.

Thibaut, a pioneer in teaching language to infants and youngsters, has recently introduced The Professor Toto® Educational Kit, a children's multimedia language course for home use. Children learn either French or Spanish through games, songs and visual aides while interacting with cartoon characters Professor Toto, Sophia and Eric. The kit is suggested for children ages 2 and up.

The Professor Toto® Educational Kit can be ordered for a free, 30-day trial at www.professortoto.com or by calling 877-444-9595.
